Extension service to offer new financial program for farmers

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Hancock County Agent Lee Taylor will join county agents from all across the state this week as they receive detailed training and information about the new program to aid financially stressed farm families.

The Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service reported the establishment of the Farm and Family Financial Management Center this week in press conferences in Biloxi, Jackson, Greenville and Tupelo.

"The extension service is formulating a plan that we think will give families financial alternatives to foreclosure or bankruptcy," said Hancock County Agent Lee Taylor.

At the press conference, extension director Dr. William Carpenter said since 1979 farm profits have been depressed while farm production costs have nearly doubled.

"The percentage of bankruptcy cases filed and property foreclosures is the highest it has been since the Depression," he said.

"Agriculture is very important to the state of Mississippi and it accounts for nearly 10 percent of the total value of goods and services produced in the state," he added.

Carpenter also said farm products prices are as low as they were 10 years ago.

"The sad thing about it is that substantial recovery does not seem to be immediately ahead," he said.

TOTAL MISSISSIPPI FARM DEBT SELECTED YEARS

Year*	Millions of Dollars
1979	$2,454
1980	$3,001
1981	$3,495
1982	$4,151
1983	$4,321
1984	$4,236

*As of January 1 for all years except 1984 which was calculated December 31.

"Additional deterioration, adjustments and suffering in agriculture are going to take place before it improves," Carpenter said.

"The extension service is gearing up to meet the challenge in a positive way by helping people help themselves," said Dr. Duane Tucker, associate director of MCES.

Beginning Dec. 2, the financial management center will be offering its services on a first come, first serve basis, he said.

Initially farmers should contact the county agent for information, Tucker said.

The county agent and extension specialist will work individually with the farmers to assess the farm and production expectations, analyze the data gathered and formulate a plan for the best possible use of the available resources.

Tucker stressed that the center was not a cure-all, but can help in most cases if the financial plan formulated is implemented.

State senator, administrator say support essential for education

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis Association of Educators first educational forum Thursday night emphasized the need for legislative and public support for Mississippi schools are to continue improvements.

Speakers for the program included State Senator Gene Taylor and Assistant Bay St. Louis School Superintendent Robert Magee.

Taylor said he feels that legislators as well as the public generally support education, particularly since there has been time for hard feelings concerning the teachers' strike earlier this year to decrease.

"From talking to people all along the Coast and to other legislators, I can tell that there really is a commitment to education in this state," Taylor said.

Among the improvements in education already passed through the legislature are the Education

Reform Act, approval of the appointment of Dr. Richard Boyd as State Superintendent of Education and teacher pay raises.

In addition, Taylor said he is noticing a new public awareness concerning educators.

"Educators are much like our military personnel. They are still grossly underpaid, but people are now beginning to appreciate the job they do," the senator said.

Taylor said he expects the legislature's educational actions this year to include funding Educational Reform Act-mandated kindergartens, passage of uniform school laws, uniform appointment rather than election of superintendents, equalization of minimum funding and grant-loan programs for prospective teachers.

The full $35 million funding package for kindergartens is expected to pass, he added.

Uniform school laws will change

Mississippi's school districts from several different types to one type similar to the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District, which the senator said will make all district fiscally independent with budgets which must be accepted by the city or county under the statute.

The appointment rather than election of superintendents was a controversial matter that failed to pass

Waveland to amend street vendor rules

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Waveland Board of Aldermen has agreed to amend a recently approved ordinance regulating street vendors to include licensing requirements for those selling perishable food items.

Lou Fernandez of the Hancock County Health Department appeared before the board Wednesday to request the change.

In its present form, the ordinance limits street vending to dairy, poultry, orchard or farm products raised or grown in Hancock County by the vendor or his immediate household and seafood caught by the vendor or his immediate household.

Fernandez said he has become concerned about the ordinance's absence of a requirement that vendors of dairy, seafood and poultry products be licensed by the board of health because he feels the ordinance unintentionally leads potential vendors to believe they are exempt from licensing regulations.

He said that he has dealt with numerous complaints on the matter over the past few years. Most involved unlicensed seafood vendors selling their products near a licensed vendor's place of business.

The board agreed to amend the ordinance but delayed action to allow time for its attorney, Lucien Gex, to draft the needed changes in the ordinance.

In other business, the board: —Set a public hearing on the city's current redistricting plan for 7 p.m. Dec. 3 at city hall;

—Approved the signing of a proclamation designating the week of Nov. 30 as "Family Week"; and —Approved the signing of a proclamation designating Dec. 10 as "Knights of Columbus Day" in honor of the organization's 75th anniversary.

"We are extremely grateful to the Coast businessmen whose donations have made this program possible," said Beth Scarborough.

Work on Central to begin Dec. 2

BY DENA BISNETTE
Final contracts have been signed and work on improvements for Central Avenue in Bay St. Louis is expected to begin on Dec. 2.

The project calls for widening, paving and drainage improvements and is being paid for with 25 percent local funding and funding from the Federal Highway Administration's Federal-Aid Urban Systems Program.

According to Mayor Victor Frankiewicz Jr., possible delays for the project could include the moving of utility lines where the road is being widened.

At a pre-construction conference Thursday, Frankiewicz said most of the poles had been moved and the remainder are expected to be moved within the next two weeks.

The contractor, Russell Necaise of Gulfport, who bid $247,974 on the contract, said that drainage work on the project could begin before the remaining poles are moved.

"We can do it but we prefer to get them out first. It costs the contractor a lot more money to have to maneuver around every little object," Necaise explained.

Also at the preconstruction conference, Necaise and subcontractors were briefed concerning state and federal regulations pertaining to the Federal-Aid Urban Systems funding.

Final panel members named

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The final five members of a committee to select a new school superintendent for the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District were named this week.

School Board President Walter Turcott reported Tuesday the appointment of Emily DeMontuzin and James Ginn, both of Bay St. Louis, Linda Penrose, Clarence Harris and Herbert "Buddy" Klein, all of Waveland.

Other members of the committee are school board members Danny Carter and Betty Diboll.

The committee's first meeting is scheduled for Dec. 2.

Turcott said although the deadline for applications for the position would be set by the committee he had recommended a mid-December date.

According to Turcott, superintendent's contracts must be signed by Jan. 15 and a later date for applications would possibly deter qualified educators.

Turcott also said the opening had been advertised in all school districts in the state through the state board of education.

Equalization of minimum funding would make certain that the same amount of money is provided for the education of each individual student. Funding disparities among districts are currently widespread and funds are inadequate in some areas.

The grant-loan program would consist of a $4 million appropriation to be used as full scholarships for students who agree to teach at a Mississippi public school for four years following graduation.

The program would provide about 1,000 new teachers per year.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Diamondhead resident responds to Property Owners Association officials

Nov. 21, 1985
To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Editor,

I feel compelled to answer the letter published in your paper from Mr. Glenn Smith, president of the Diamondhead property Owners Association.

I have lived in Diamondhead since 1975 (ten years) and have enjoyed living here.

At that time there were only a few residents.

Many who were here then and now will attest to the fact that I have always fought for what I thought was right for all concerned and have won many of those battles.

The enclosed letter is in answer, point for point, to the letter of Nov. 11, '85 that I received from Dr. Sidney Watson. I sent the original letter to him.

Sincerely,

M. Frances Mayfield, M.D.
Sidney Watson, O.D.
Chairman, Information Committee
Diamondhead Country Club &
Property Owners
Association, Inc.
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sid:

Thank you for your letter of Nov. 11, 1985 in answer to my commentary about the Open Board Meeting of the DPOA Oct. 18, 1985. I was impressed with the perfect appearance of the letter which, I might add, would be comparable only to correspondence from the White House.

I am aware that there have been some improvements under the present administration to some of our facilities. This is commendable.

I am also aware that much equipment has been purchased, some of which, that is to say, heavy equipment, could have been leased and not depleted our reserves as they have done.

I expected the monthly dues increase, as did many others, but you have to admit that it was agreed by many on the board that an increase would not be necessary (promise - a bad word).

I am not by myself when I look at our nine-month expenditures, that the item of Salaries and Benefits demands more detailed explanation. This needs to be itemized one by one. You must realize that this one item is almost 50 percent of the total. One million plus! For the enlightenment of the average resident, this is imperative.

Have you eaten lately at Vrazels Fine Foods? If not, then you should. There is no comparison with our Country Club as to food, service, price, etc.

I must have been on vacation when a Soup, Sandwich, Salad Bar was in operation. I did not know of it. I am glad to hear that hors d'oeuvres have been replaced by pretzels and peanuts. (Some of us, with our diverticulitis, however, cannot snack on this. Cheese and crackers would have been better.)

Our golf fees do not compare with some other similar developments. For instance, Hot Springs Village, where the fees for people owning their own carts is less than $50 a year, and green fees are less than ours.

Six months green and cart fees have indeed been granted to some of us. I, personally, until 1985 was allowed to buy a six-month cart and green fee, whatever anyone, including the developer, might say.

I understand the reason given for not allowing golf cart pleasure riding on the golf courses. However, I still maintain that we are knowledgeable and responsible citizens and it has seemed very unfair to some residents.

For instance, one of our residents bought a beautiful cart just so he could ride for pleasure on the cart paths at times. I know this to be true, and he was, once or twice, severely reprimanded by a ranger because he used the cart to ride only a few feet to visit a neighbor.

I am also aware that there is a law about the use of golf carts, three-wheelers, and unlicensed mopeds on public roads, but where is the enforcement of this law on Golf Club Drive?

Steve is a good golf pro but perhaps he could cut some of his expenses with only one assistant and supply free such things as golf tees.

A TV in the 19th Hole would be nice but many waiting for tee times enjoyed, say watching another sport in the Pro Shop while waiting.

I have not experienced, but am told, that some of the rangers are not pleasant about anything.

And, whoever said the medical profession was democratic?

It may be of interest to the POA Board that I have had numerous requests from women residents to establish another Woman's Club, which we are planning to do come January 1, 1986.

Recently it has come to my attention that other developments have Informed Women's Associations; for example Scottsdale, Ariz., from which I have an invitation to attend a meeting.

This letter is getting lengthy and I did not really intend for it to do so. But then, there is much to talk about.

I will, however, close now. Hoping to hear from you.

Sincerely,

M. Frances Mayfield, M.D.

News From The Governor's Office

Gov. Bill Allain

LET'S BE THANKFUL FOR STATE'S PROGRESS

As the Thanksgiving season approaches, I decided to compose a column of just good news.

So often, all we see or read in the news is bad, depressing, and dismal. During the past year, we have a lot of progress that Mississippians should be thankful for.

As you share your Thanksgiving prayers with your friends and family, keep in mind the good that has come through Mississippi during 1985.

We have a number of economic development projects that have begun or been approved during this year. These programs mean more jobs for Mississippians.

These projects include the Boeing plant in Greenville, the Homeport project in Pascagoula, the opening of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway throughout Northeast Mississippi, and the Walmart distribution center in Brookhaven.

Already, we have recaptured 15,000 of the 45,000 jobs we lost during the recession; and the Department of Economic Development is working every day to make that figure even higher.

Toward that end, we have initiated two activities to help small businesses this year. The Department of Economic Development has a $100 million revenue bond program to aid small businesses, which comprise some 95 percent of our state businesses. In addition, the Department established a toll-free number (1-800-343-1112) to answer questions of small business people.

Hand-in-hand with the economic development progress of this state is the progress in education. The State Department of Education released scores from competency tests for 11th graders, indicating good results in reading and mixed results in writing.

Our Education Reform Act is being implemented on schedule, and we will include funds for early childhood education in this year's budget.

To assist adults, the Governor's Office established a Council on the Adult Learner to help with the massive problem of literacy among adults over age 25.

This year has also seen progress in the overall standard of life in Mississippi. The Governor's Office has worked with federal, state, and local officials to assist residents in Tunica, which received negative publicity as the poorest county in the country. I can now report to you that we have a $5.5 million program of housing, education and economic improvement underway in the area. We will be using the Tunica project as a model for other areas of the state with similar problems.

We've made Mississippi a better place to live by increased drug arrests by the State Bureau of Narcotics and local law enforcement officials.

We are working on specific health care problems in this state, including the appointment of a state Task Force on Infant Mortality.

Our young people are better protected by the 1985 Legislative approval of an increased drinking age, from 18 to 21 years old.

We can be especially thankful that no one was killed when Hurricane Elena struck the Mississippi Gulf Coast on Labor Day.

In all, we think Mississippi is on the right track. A mood of change and progress exists throughout the state, and we will continue listening to the people as they tell us what they dream for this state.

Eyes on Mississippi

by Bill Minor

The impending political demise of House Speaker Buddie Newman has often been speculated by political writers, including this one, but up to now, it has not come to pass.

This time, a prediction that the powerful reign of Newman in the House is coming to an end comes from a member of the House who had been something of a country boy favorite in the Newman old guard.

Veteran State Rep. Jerry Wilborn of Mantachie, whose rustic language and wit have brought him a following in the legislative halls over the years, has let the world know it's time for the House to get new leadership and he wants the process to start in the coming session.

Wilborn said he is prefilling this week a change in the House rules to re-establish the post of speaker pro tem, a job which Newman interestingly enough had abolished after he used it as a stepping stone to the speakership in 1974.

"I don't dislike Buddie Newman, I think he has done a lot for this state," Wilborn told this column, "but I am not going to support him again for speaker." And, he added, "I'm certain there will be a new speaker elected next term."

Wilborn's idea is to have the House name a speaker pro tem in 1986 who can give the legislative body a better public image. "The public has a negative image of Buddie Newman, and it is hurting all of us that they think are Newman's boys," declared the 45-year-old lawmaker, now in his fifth term in the House.

The surprise to many is that Wilborn does not come out of the ranks of the "terrible 26" young House members who tried to change House rules in 1984, to curb the speaker's power. Wilborn, in fact, had been one of the spokesmen for Newman to repel the rules changes.

During the latter part of the 1985 legislative session, Wilborn began to put distance between himself and the pro-Newman forces. He was seen more often voting along with the rebel group in the teacher pay fight.

It is apparent now that Wilborn's alienation from the Newman inner circle is complete. However, the young insurgents who made the 1984 rules fight are not really sure what Wilburn is up to, although they believe he is sincere.

Evidently the "terrible 26" had no plans to support a move for a speaker pro tem, because their first priority is still to lessen the speaker's grip over the committee process. But if the pro tem fight becomes a test of strength over Newman's successor, they will back the move.

Wilburn admits he is not optimistic over the chances that his proposal to create a speaker pro tem will get out of the Newman-controlled Rules Committee. "But I believe the Rules Committee and a lot of others will know it's there and they won't be able to ignore it," he said.

He also admits that he has his personal choice for the pro tem spot, Rep. Mike Nipper of Grenada, who is well thought of in the Newman camp. Wilburn insists that Nipper could be a good compromise candidate.

Education forces, however, recall that Nipper was one of the foes of the Education Reform Act in 1982.

In any case, Wilburn's move is not going to be taken lightly by anyone because he is known to be quite effective when he gets into a legislative battle.

Some still remember how he rallied the rural forces in the House back in 1968 in behalf of the junior colleges by jumping on his desk during a recess in a long night session like a cheerleader. Out of his performance came a floor revolt to override the powerful House Appropriation Committee.

Wilburn is also remembered in legislative history for his "General Cluster" speech against the five-cent sales tax in 1968.

Grabbing the microphone, Wilburn blurted, "I know how General Cluster felt when he seen all them injuns at the Battle of Little Bighorn."

Once again, Wilburn may be outnumbered, but it is going to be quite a fight.

The People's Business

A Weekly Editorial
From Mississippi Economic Council

Sides are already being drawn for further manipulation of the state's property tax laws in 1986. Essentially, efforts are being prepared to reduce the tax burden on residential property while increasing the burden on business property.

Pre-filed legislation for 1986 follows on the heels of a summer of discontent among business property owners whose personal property taxation rules and regulations were thoroughly confused by conflicting opinions from the State Tax Commission, opinions which ultimately left local assessors in control of personal property tax policies. And it follows heavy maneuvering in the 1985 Legislative Session to provide special tax benefits to selected groups of taxpayers.

As the 1986 Legislative Session draws nearer, Mississippi taxpayers would do well to remember these tax facts:

1. Only people pay taxes. Any tax burdens placed on business ultimately will be paid by the consumer.
2. Somebody has to pay for governmental services. If we want quality schools, quality hospitals, quality law enforcement, quality roads and streets, and other quality governmental services, somebody has to pay for them.

3. The Mississippi Constitution guarantees fairness and equity in taxation.

USDA APPROVES $10 MILLION FOR MISSISSIPPI, OTHER FLOOD-STRIKEN STATES

Senator Thad Cochran (R-Miss.) said the government has released $10 million for emergency work in Mississippi and several other states stricken or threatened by flooding.

Sen. Cochran, chairman of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee on Agriculture and Rural Development, said Agriculture Secretary John Block notified him Thursday he had ordered the Soil Conservation Service to use the additional funds for emergency purposes.

"This is certainly welcome news for our state and other areas in the country threatened by flooding, or already ravaged in recent days," the senator commented.

Secretary Block said the SCS said the $10 million was to meet an "extraordinary emergency" that posed "significant immediate threats to life and property from flooding in West Virginia, Virginia, Mississippi, Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Maryland and other states."

He said SCS would utilize the funds to "carry out urgent repair work needed to alleviate the current flood threats in these areas." The agency will help fund construction and other emergency work authorized under its watershed and flood prevention operations and programs.

IN CONGRESS

By Cong. Trent Lott

KEY-TO-NEW JOBS AND INDUSTRY

We all are, by now, painfully familiar with the consent decree handed down two years ago by a lone federal judge which led to the breakup of the telephone company.

Judge Harold Greene decided that the only way to deal with the Justice Department's charges that AT&T held a monopoly on the communications market was to split AT&T into one national company and seven regional ones.

We all are coming to terms with the results: phone bills whose thickness approach the size of telephone directories and whose costs for services seems to have multiplied in direct proportion to the thickness.

There are other valid consumer complaints including the confusion over the repair of equipment.

But I'm especially concerned over a U.S. government-imposed barrier in the decree that discriminates against our own U.S. companies. Specifically, the seven Bell operating companies, which hold 50 percent of all assets in the U.S. telecommunications industry, are prohibited by the judicial consent decree from manufacturing telecommunications equipment.

This U.S.-imposed barrier hurts our telecommunications trade balance by forcing equipment buyers in the U.S. and elsewhere to look to overseas manufacturers when they could look to Bell companies if these companies were allowed to manufacture the equipment.

Incredibly enough, foreign manufacturers can locate telecommunications plants in the U.S. to make their products even though we prevent our own companies from competing.

The telecommunications industry is a "sunrise" industry in which the U.S. holds a big, technological lead, but despite telecommunications' importance to our economy, its trade deficit is doubling every year.

The U.S. quite properly criticizes foreign governments for imposing trade barriers that discriminate against U.S. telecommunications companies, but we have only ourselves to blame when our own courts impose trade barriers on domestic manufacturing.

I have introduced legislation in the House of Representatives which would remove this barrier by conditionally repealing the ban on telephone equipment manufacturing imposed on the regional Bell operating companies.

Given this new freedom, I believe the Bell companies would engage in manufacturing in a variety of ways.

Drawing upon the success of American computer technology, the entrepreneur with innovative ideas and the resources of the Bell companies, our nation, with this barrier repealed, would be strategically positioned to benefit as the world economy moves into the "information age."

Domestic jobs would be created; exports would be enhanced and even our national defense need for telecommunications would be improved.

I do not believe those who say we cannot produce competitively-priced, high quality telecommunications equipment domestically. The nay-sayers point to the recently announced decision by AT&T to close its Shreveport, La., plant.

This illustration does not explain why firms like Old and Fujitsu are increasing production capacity in the U.S. Maybe we need only unleash some of the largest, most experienced telecommunications providers in the world and then sit back and reap the benefits of competition.

Bay High drops from play-offs after 41-0 defeat by Magee

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis High School Tigers dropped out of the South State play-offs Friday after being shut out by the Magee Trojans 41-0.

The District VIII 3-A Champion Tigers were outclassed almost from the kick-off by the Trojans, a powerhouse team with the District VI title and last year's state championship under their belts.

Despite the wide margin in the score, Bay head coach Cleveland Williams said he feels his team turned in the best performance possible.

"Our boys played well, but we were playing against the number three team in the state and we knew the odds before we played them," he said.

"We knew that the only time they had been defeated was when they played the number two school in the nation."

The Tiger coaches are predicting that their last opponent of 1985 will be this year's state champions.

"I don't expect anyone to beat them," Williams commented.

"I think the Trojans did an outstanding job, considering who we were playing against," Assistant Coach Gary Griffin added.

"Magee was a very physical team on offense and defense and we just couldn't get anything operating on them," Williams said.

"Even though we lost the game, we've accomplished a lot this season. We got the District VIII title, we got a 9-2 record and we earned the challenge of getting into a play-off."

"We had nothing to lose going in. Playing Magee was good experience for the boys and we can be proud of the way we played."

"This has been one of the best years that Bay High has ever had," the coach added.

The Tiger Nasty Bunch Defense was able to hold Magee back until there was :31 left in the first quarter, but after scoring their first touchdown on a short run the Trojans had the Tigers scrambling.

A kick attempt for a PAT failed and the Trojans led 6-0.

In second quarter action, the Tiger offense took the ball to the Trojan 29 but ran out of downs and turned it back over to Magee. Magee scored another touchdown on a short run and followed it with a successful PAT to increase the lead to 13.

The Trojans demonstrated hard hitting and expertise at scooping up fumbles in the remainder of the first half.

Twice when the Tigers got near the Trojans goal and fumbled, a Magee runner was there to grab the ball and carry it across the goal line for short yardage and more points.

By the time the halftime whistle blew, Bay High was 27 points behind.

Although Bay High's defensive tactics had been able to hold Magee to scores on short yardage in the first half, the Trojans broke loose in the second half for a touchdown on a 58-yard run.

With the PAT, the Trojans trailed 34-0.

In the fourth quarter, the Tiger offense attempted a drive that got as far as the Magee three yard line.

However, Magee's powerhouse defense was too much for the Trojans and Bay High again had to surrender the ball on downs.

Magee switched up for its final touchdown, scoring on a pass play instead of a run, and with the PAT the final score stood at 41-0.

24-HOUR EMERGENCY CARE

When accidents happen or illness strikes, the need for prompt, expert medical care can be critical.

Now you can have peace of mind, knowing that 24-hour emergency care is only minutes away.

NorthShore Regional Medical Center offers complete round-the-clock emergency medical services.

*The only ambulance service on the North Shore with 24-hour coverage by national registered paramedics, from the emergency site to the hospital. Registered paramedics are specialists in recognizing and responding to life-threatening crises.

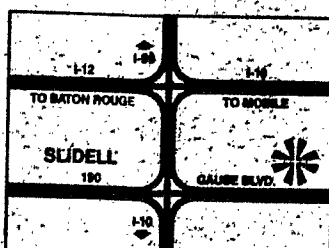

*A highly-skilled, caring emergency and trauma staff, backed by our medical staff of leading area physicians.

*State-of-the-art equipment in ambulances and the Emergency Room.

Another advantage: tiered-pricing

Tiered-pricing means that you pay only for the degree of care you require. Unlike most hospitals, NorthShore does not charge a flat fee for Emergency Room admissions. In other words, a sore throat doesn't cost you as much as a serious fracture.

For yourself and your loved ones, remember NorthShore's 24-Hour Emergency Care Ambulance Service: 646-5050. Outside Louisiana, call toll-free: 1-800-344-6695.

1 mile south of the I-10, I-55 and I-55 intersection, adjacent to the Cause Blvd. (190) exit, east of I-10.

WHO'S DRIVING HOME?

Alas, the party's over. The music is playing softly in the background, friends are saying good night and the clean up detail is beginning. But for Brian, Jennifer, Tracey and Rick, who added drinking to their evening, a decision has to be made. Approximately 46 teenagers will be killed this year in Mississippi by drinking and driving or riding with someone who does. It's your choice.

It was announced that dues will be delinquent after Jan. 1, 1986 and that the 1986 State Convention will be held in Greenville from May 2-4. Cigarette advertising victimizes teenagers

As scientific evidence on the hazards of smoking helps convince many adults to stop, cigarette advertising may influence teenagers to start.

Health organizations such as the American Heart Association have to reckon with this dilemma as they fight to neutralize the tobacco industry's annual $1 billion advertising budget.

These advertisements promote an image to teenagers, already vulnerable to social and peer pressures, that smoking is pleasurable, adventurous and adultlike, according to American Heart Association of Mississippi president, Dr. Joe Ross.

"These advertising practices are unfair and unfortunate," Ross said.

"Teenagers are valuable to the tobacco industry's strategy to increase future cigarette sales. Two-thirds of all smokers begin before the age of 18. If they haven't started smoking regularly by that age, chances are that they won't become addicted smokers."

Although the AHA and other organizations have effective messages to counter cigarette advertising plays, they don't have the advertising leverage the tobacco industry has.

"Although we don't have a budget comparable to the tobacco industry's, we can get the no-smoking message out through community service, educational programs and public service announcements," Ross said.

"Let's Talk About Smoking," an anti-smoking program available from the Heart Association, features a film in which teenagers discuss the pros and cons of smoking.

The 11-minute film is based on unrehearsed interviews with junior high school students who pointedly discuss influences to smoke that come from siblings, family and advertising.

The film is combined with a three-day unit of classroom activities, a guide for teachers, an attitude-testing survey and optional materials.

Pilot testing showed the program helped students maintain positive attitudes and beliefs about non-smoking. Peer pressure, which usually encourages smoking, is used as an anti-smoking force.

Although smoking among teenagers has declined, the decline has leveled off. Teenagers who smoke in Hancock County are part of an estimated 3 million teenagers who continue to smoke. Studies show that 20 percent of high school seniors smoke and smoking among girls 17-18 is at an all-time high of 26 percent.

A recent Federal Trade Commission Report showed that many teenagers believe that smoking isn't harmful or addictive.

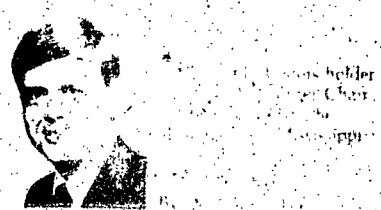

Teenagers will experiment with smoking for awhile with the intent of quitting before it becomes a habit.

Unfortunately, most of those who experiment for any length of time eventually become habitual smokers.

Smoking is a factor in almost 325,000 deaths each year.

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

BENEFITS OF TAX-FREE EXCHANGE

Question: Years ago I read an article explaining that tax exchanges available for real estate. Is this still available, and if so, how does it work? J. J. Tupper

Answer: Dear J. J.:

The tax-free exchange, a major advantage of real estate investing, was unaffected by the Tax Reform Act of 1984. It also was the untouched under the proposed 1985 tax proposal presently being considered.

However, many investors hesitate to consider exchanging real estate, although the advantages have been available for many years. The reason is probably the belief that tax-free exchanges require complex and drawn-out procedures.

This is far from the case, although some initial time and effort must be expended to understand the mechanics of exchanging. If you are interested in a tax-free exchange, a real estate attorney specializing in taxation may need to be consulted.

A real estate exchange is exactly what its name implies: a direct swap of one property for another. The key advantage of an exchange is the deferral of the tax the seller would otherwise pay on the appreciation of the property given up.

To obtain that tax advantage the exchange must meet the requirements of Section 1031 of the Internal Revenue Code. Essentially, there are three requirements.

First, the property in the exchange must be used for a trade or business or investment. This requirement excludes property held for personal use, such as your personal residence.

Second, an actual exchange must occur. That is, one property cannot be sold for cash which has then been used to purchase a second property.

And third, the properties must be of "like kind." This requirement has been very broadly construed by the courts so that virtually all kinds of business or investment real estate may be exchanged, such as an apartment building for an office building, a ranch for a motel.

Q. I live outside a city by choice. But the city has announced plans to take me and my neighbors in through annexation. I don't need or want any city services and I sure don't want to pay city taxes. Also, I think I can prove the value of my property will be reduced if it is inside the city limits. I thought this was a free country. Are they really do this to me?

A. You've raised several questions which the courts have dealt with through the years. It's clear you do have a right to be heard in the court which will decide whether the annexation will be altered, but the court is required to order the annexation despite the wishes of you and your neighbors if the city shows, in essence, a need to grow and ability to provide city services. As for the reduced property value, the U.S. Supreme Court has said you're not entitled to government compensation for the reduction. You would be entitled to compensation if the city took your land completely.

For answers to your questions, write Dr. Dennis Tash, P.O. Box 295 University, MS 38677.

Many People Faced With Emotional Problems Feel All Hope Is Lost.

Depression is a disease that brings deep pain and sadness. It disrupts lives. We fear that nothing can be done about it. We fear it will never end.

Depression brings with it changes we feel so deeply, but cannot understand. A feeling of being terribly alone. A loss of interest in things that once gave us pleasure. A feeling that we can no longer cope with life around us—family, job, the world. We may withdraw from friends and loved ones. Or drink to drown our sorrow. Or sleep our days away.

But the greatest sadness of all is living with depression when help is so near.

If you or someone you care about has been living with this pain, you don't have to deal with it alone. A simple phone call to us can be the beginning of a return to life as it should be.

When you call us, you will talk to someone who has listened to many other people with problems like yours. Someone who does what they do because they want to help. Someone with the experience to understand your needs and help you take the right first step toward feeling better.

Depression is an illness that can go on and on if nothing is done. But those who suffer from it can be helped.

If you've been suffering alone, call us. Call for your own sake. Call for the sake of someone you care about. You need not endure this pain when hope is just a phone call away.

We're here when you need us.

USM expands adult studies

The University of Southern Mississippi will sharply expand evening degree programs and class offerings available for adult students during the spring semester, which gets underway in January.

"We're trying to offer a variety of courses for people who want to pursue a degree or just enrich their lives," said Carol Guice, new coordinator of the USM Adult Studies Program for the university's Division of Lifelong Learning.

Dr. Gene Tinnon, dean of the division, and Dr. Donna Garvey, director of the division's Department of On-Campus Credit, said the Adult Studies Program launched in September will expand the number of degree programs available to evening adult students from 12 to 21 and increase the total number of class offerings from 80 to 120.

"We can now assure people that all core (General Education Curriculum) requirements will be available on the evening classroom schedule next semester," noted Guice.

Four new undergraduate degree programs being added for the spring semester include history, sociology, anthropology and industrial vocational education. Existing programs in American studies (liberal arts), communication, general business, mathematics and library science will be continued.

Five new master's degree programs planned for the next semester include history/library science, public relations, communication, physical education and social work.

A doctoral program in history and master's degree programs in home economics, history, philosophy, library science, geology and manufacturing technology will be retained.

Tinnon said the Division of Lifelong Learning, formerly known as the Division of Continuing Education, has served 355 students this fall in on-campus and off-campus, adult studies and extension courses. He said about 225 of those students "were, effectively, brand-new students."

A variety of courses are offered within the different degree programs. The general business program, for instance, features such course offerings as accounting, real estate, marketing and management.

Regular classes are held from 6:30 p.m. to 9:15 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, with some library science and social work graduate courses available on weekends.

Guice said the adult program also is expanding course offerings to be available from 5 p.m. to 6:15 p.m. and from 6:30 p.m. to 7:45 p.m.

The Division of Lifelong Learning also conducts special intersession credit courses during breaks between semesters. Courses have not been finalized for a holiday intersession planned to start Dec. 16. Students who sign up for that will take a break for the Christmas holidays Dec. 20, then resume classes Jan. 2 through Jan. 10.

Registration fees for three-hour courses offered by the Adult Studies Program are $181 per semester for undergraduate courses and $238 for graduate courses. Prospective students must meet all admission requirements of the university.

Tentative class schedules for the spring semester will be mailed out prior to Thanksgiving. Anyone wishing to get on the mailing list or who seeks other information, should contact the Division of Lifelong Learning by telephoning 268-4512.

Pre-registration will be held Dec. 12 from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. on the third floor of McLemore Hall on the USM campus. Registration also will be held between 7:30 a.m. and 8:30 p.m., Jan. 6-10.

MUSCLE SPASMS

Violent, involuntary contractions of a muscle or group of muscles initiate the painful condition of muscle spasms. They can occur in almost any muscle of the body. Most frequently they occur in the back, neck, stomach or bladder. Even the involuntary twitching of the eye lids, or facial muscles is associated with muscle spasm. The single or riddle of their cause has been solved. As it has been shown that the majority of all muscle spasms are caused by nerve root pressure, even though there can be other aggravating factors, injections, muscle relaxants and traction are measures which give temporary relief but contribute little to the correction of the basic cause of nerve pressure. A Chiropractic examination will get at the roots of the matter and application of spinal adjustments, if necessary, will permit the correction of the majority of these conditions. Prompt attention in this matter usually brings prompt results.

HOLIDAY IDEAS

The Sea Coast Echo

Creative packaging is a personal and unique idea

Add a personal touch to a present you are giving by making its packaging a creative gift of its own. It is easy to do with glue, a few jewels and some trim.

To decorate this heart box, for example, spread Elmer's Glue-All generously over the lid, arrange jewels in a pleasing design and press into the glue. Allow an hour to dry and glaze over the design with additional glue thinned slightly with a drop or two of water. Then glue ribbon around the overhang of the lid.

A flat, inexpensive picture frame (or a matboard) can be decorated in the same way to carry the children's picture to grandma. Finish by edging with colored rickrack and cording.

Hint: Trace outline of piece to be decorated on plain paper and try out arrangement of jewels. Then spread glue on the piece and position the jewels. †

Where holiday customs originated

Deck the halls with boughs of holly! The lively carol describes one of the oldest customs of the season. Where did it originate?

Most holiday customs have a rationale behind them, as does the practice of hanging holly.

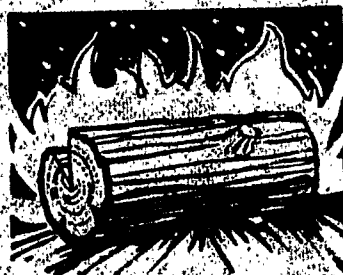

The ancient Druids believed that holly branches protected them from evil spirits. When placed in the home, these branches provided a warm haven for the sylvan spirits. In time, the practice became associated with the holiday season.

We can also thank the Druids for the custom of kissing under the mistletoe. The ancient priests of Ireland, Britain, and Gaul regarded mistletoe as the soul of the oak, which was their sacred tree. Because the plant never touched the earth, the Druids believed it represented pure spirits. As it was a symbol of peace and good will, Druid enemies would drop their weapons under the mistletoe and embrace. This practice evolved into today's holiday custom.

The yule log has been associated with Christmas for centuries in many countries. This custom goes back to the Norsemen, who used it as a symbol of the rebirth of the sun at the winter solstice; the word yule is actually Norse for December. The yule log is always lit with a piece from last year's log, and in many countries, wine is poured on it as a blessing.

We can thank St. Francis of Assisi for the custom of placing manger scenes under the Christmas tree. Wanting to bring the spirit of that first Christmas to his parishioners, the good saint brought animals into his church, where he placed a manger. He scattered hay about the altar, where a mother and her baby represented Mary and the infant Jesus. The villagers loved this tableau and soon the custom of creating nativity scenes evolved from that reenactment.

The wassail bowl, where holiday toasts are customary, goes back in tradition to hundreds of years. The daughter of a Germanic chieftain is said to have offered a gold cup filled with wine to her host, with the words "Waes hael hlaforð Cyning," or "Be of health, Lord King." As the practice of drinking a wassail spread, those who could not afford wine used a mixture of hot oil, sugar, nutmeg and ginger, topped with toasted bread. That is how drinking to one's health became known as a toast!

Dickens extolled Christmas in his writings

Of all authors, perhaps no other is as closely associated with Christmas as Charles Dickens.

His classic "A Christmas Carol" has been read and reread, and translated into stage, motion picture and television productions.

But, not many are aware that Dickens wrote other Christmas tales. They were fairy tales with a moral, published during the Christmas season in the 1840s.

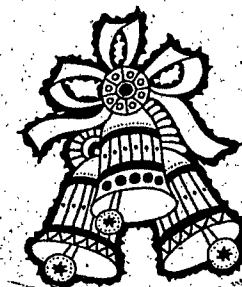

According to researchers, Christmas was very special to Dickens. He saw it as a time when people were more giving and more open to change.

This kind of change was classically described in "A Christmas Carol" when the miserly Ebenezer Scrooge learns to celebrate Christmas with warmth and generosity.

One of the other Christmas books, "The Haunted Man" is written in the same vein. It tells of a chemist who had endured much suffering and betrayal in his youth. As he sits gazing into the fireplace on Christmas Eve, a spirit grants the unhappy man forgetfulness from the sad past. But, the chemist discovers that his happy memories are wiped out with the unhappy memories, as well. He realizes that he does not want to forget his past, after all.

Dickens was editor of a magazine for 17 years. Each year, he would prepare a Christmas issue, filled with songs and stories of the season. In addition to the five Christmas books he wrote, Dickens also published two volumes of Christmas stories.

Little Theatre sponsoring Christmas bazaar Saturday

"Creating Christmas," the first artists market and quilt show sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, opens Saturday, at the theatre's red barn playhouse on Boardman Avenue.

"Hundreds of items made by local artists and items offered by local shopkeepers will be available when the market opens at 10 a.m.," said Becky Rotundo, market chairman.

According to Mrs. Rotundo, "There will be antique quilts, hand-dipped candles, wildlife watercolors, porcelain dolls, country wood works, hand-decorated linens, hundreds of handmade ornaments, doll houses, Christmas jams, jellies and pastries. The variety of items is too numerous to list here, but a program of artists will be provided to shoppers."

The theatre will create the holiday spirit in its decor, with gifts displayed throughout the building, a specially designated area for refreshments, cafe-style.

There will be door prizes given every hour donated by participating artists, and a special afghan awarded.

The market will be open Saturday to 5 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 1, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Christmas Seals provide services

Christmas Seal dollars in Mississippi provide patient services, education and medical research to prevent and control lung diseases in Hancock County and Mississippi.

"If your lungs are healthy, the Christmas Seal People want to keep them that way, but if there is a problem, Christmas Seal dollars and the Mississippi Lung Association are there to help," said Elda Duke of Waveland, chairman of the Hancock County Chapter of the Mississippi Lung Association.

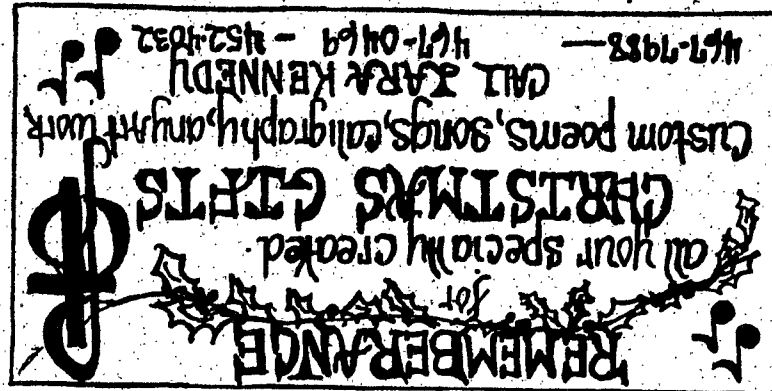

"A future free of lung disease is the goal which Christmas Seal People are working toward through a wide variety of projects, services, fellowships, research grants and programs," Duke said.

Your Christmas Seal support provides vital patient assistance to fellow Mississippians of all ages who suffer with lung problems. Comprehensive education and self-help programs are designed to help prevent and control lung diseases and related problems. Mississippi Christmas Seal dollars are currently supporting medical research programs in Mississippi and the nation to probe causes and cures of lung diseases.

"Medical education also plays a vital role in the work of your Mississippi Christmas Seal voluntary health organization," Duke said. "Your Christmas Seal dollars help provide support for the Christmas Seal Professor of Respiratory Disease at the University of Mississippi Medical Center; post-doctoral fellowships, a junior faculty position and summer medical research assistantships in pulmonary medicine; special tuberculosis training courses and other scientific seminars for physicians and other medical personnel, and a pediatric specialist."

At this season of giving special thanks for our many blessings, the Hancock County Lung Chapter urges citizens to answer your Christmas Seal letter and join the fight for better lung health. Your Christmas Seal gift is credited to your local county and each gift is income tax deductible.

Add fragrance glamour to the holidays

Fragrance is a wonderful way to add a festive touch to the upcoming holiday season. Nina Ricci, Paris, creators of romantically feminine L'Air du Temps, offers some tips on making this holiday season extra special:

- Spray L'Air du Temps on lightbulbs throughout the house. The heat of the lightbulb will diffuse the fragrance.

- Many potpourris lose their freshness after they're exposed to air. By liberally spraying with L'Air du Temps Eau de Parfum or Eau de Toilette, you can bring the potpourri back to life. Bath oil, which is highly concentrated, can also be used to liven up your potpourri.

- Drench a cotton ball with perfume and place behind the cushions on a sofa or chair. Gentle floral notes will waft through the air creating a soft, festive ambiance.

- Instead of using a commercial air freshener, use your favorite fragrance as a special scent for the home. You will create a romantic aura.

During the holidays you want to feel especially festive and romantic. Here are a few fragrance tips to make yourself feel extra special:

- Use various forms of your favorite perfume in layers. For example, soap, body lotion, bath oil, dusting powder, Eau de Toilette and perfume. The theory is that as the day goes by each layer wears off being replaced by the next layer. The result is an all-day fragrance aura.

- Put some perfumed dusting powder in your shoes. After a long day of Christmas shopping your feet will still feel refreshed.

- Spray L'Air du Temps Eau de Toilette on the lining paper in your dresser drawers. Your clothing will have the delicate scent of L'Air du Temps.

- A luxurious bath using scented bath oil and soap will relax and unwind you and helps put you in the mood for holiday celebrations. †

Holiday fare is sure to please

The holiday season is fast approaching and now is a good time to start planning those extra special ideas for entertaining family and friends.

A few suggestions from the Rowoco Company are pictured here. They are not only simple to prepare but are sure to get rave reviews.

The luscious, moist and festive Christmas tree cake (made with a prepared cake mix) and the tangy cranberry relish mold are made in the Christmas tree shape pans — an exclusive from the Rowoco bakeware collection.

Christmas Tree Cake

- 1 package (2-layer) yellow or white cake mix
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 pint sour cream
- 1/2 cup oil
- 1 package instant pistachio pudding mix

Combine cake mix, pudding mix, eggs, sour cream and oil in a large mixing bowl. Blend, then beat at medium speed for 5 minutes. Pour batter into well-greased and floured Christmas tree pan ... fill no more than 3/4 full.

Bake in a 350-degree F oven 45 to 50 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean and cake begins to pull away from sides of pan.

Cool in pan about 15 minutes. Remove from pan and continue cooling on rack.

We suggest a 7-minute frosting, then lightly sprinkle with shredded coconut and decorate with candy dots and jelly beans.

The decorating can be a family project and may bring out some unexpected artistic talents. †

Tips for toddler safety during Christmas season

Christmas holidays are a joyous, festive time for family and friends, but it's also a time for a few extra precautions if you have toddlers or small children at home.

Accidents are the number one hazard to children under five and most accidents occur in the home. Happily, experts tell us 90 percent of these accidents are easy to prevent.

Here are some Christmas safety recommendations from Q-tips, makers of the country's best-selling cotton swabs, known as the "safety swabs."

Place your Christmas tree out of busy areas in your home. The safest location is in a room corner as close to the walls as possible. Be sure it rests on a very firm stand.

Keep all the wiring in the back of the tree. Do not have extension cords visible and reachable in front of the tree.

Especially while children are young, trim the tree with unbreakable decorations. If you use breakable ornaments that are a family tradition, put them on the highest branches.

Don't put the children's toys directly under the tree. Put the toys off to the side so they can play with them with no danger of toppling the tree. Between play sessions, leave the toys near, but never under, the tree.

With the hustle of Christmas, wrapping and unwrapping packages, plus guests coming and going, be extra careful about storing household items. For example, put the scissors away immediately after using them.

Don't leave empty cups, glasses or matches on low tables.

Remember to keep all those child-proof locks on your kitchen and bathroom cabinets securely closed.

Remember, too, that the extra holiday excitement means small children need naps and quiet times even more. A warm bath and nap relaxes toddlers and restores their energy.

And, you'll have a few moments to relax and check out your safety precautions. †

Share the Love of Christmas

Christmas cards are a somewhat recent tradition

One of the most cherished traditions of the Christmas season is that of sending greetings to friends and family — yet Christmas cards did not become popular in the United States until the latter part of the 1800s.

A German immigrant named Louis Prang produced the first Christmas cards in this country in 1874. Prior to then, Christmas cards were known primarily in Europe. They were already an accepted custom in England, where the very first Christmas card had been created.

The English artist John Horsley designed the first card in 1843 at the request of Sir Henry Cole. The illustration on the card depicted a family celebrating the season and bore the message, "A merry Christmas and a happy new year to you." Side panels depicted the poor receiving gifts of charity.

This design was eventually lithographed, hand-colored and sold for a shilling a copy. Not more than 1000 copies of the first Christmas card were sold.

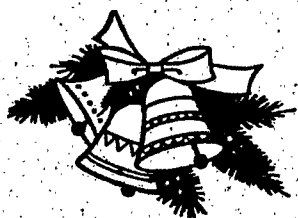

The second Christmas card was not designed until 1848, by W.M. Egley. In England, at that time, the custom was to write to friends and family during the holidays, exchanging good wishes. There were sheets of writing paper decorated with Christmas motifs available for such messages. But, these handwritten letters took a great deal of time. In fact, it was the desire to save time that prompted Sir Henry Cole to have a Christmas card made up for his holiday correspondence.

Thus, by the year when Louis Prang designed the first American card, the English mails were already flooded with cards at Christmas time.

Prang sent his first cards to England, but the following year he began to produce them for domestic consumption. His enterprise coincided with the postal service's policy of delivering free mail in large cities, encouraging Americans to purchase the new, beautifully printed cards.

Prang's cards reflected the tastes of the Victorian times. Fanciful animals, cherubs, flowers and romanticized children were popular subjects for his cards. Oddly enough, the cards seldom reflected religious sentiments.

Christmas inspires beautiful legends

What wonderful legends the season of Christmas inspires! Who has not enjoyed hearing the story of how the animals were given the gift of speech on that very first Christmas?

Another legend concerns an ox who shared the stable with the Infant Jesus. According to the legend, the ox noticed the halos appearing above the heads of Joseph, Mary and Jesus on that holy night. So radiant was the atmosphere around the Holy Family that the ox felt that even the water in his trough had been touched by the holy presences, and out of humility the creature would not drink from it. Instead, he drank from some muddy water on the ground — and found it to be deliciously sweet!

Another legend tells of Joseph of Arimathea. (It was in Joseph's tomb that the body of Jesus was laid to rest, Scripture tells us.) The legend says that this same Joseph eventually traveled to England, where in his wanderings, he came to rest one day at Glastonbury. He drove his staff into the ground, where it grew to become a thorn tree. That is why the thorn tree blooms at Christmas, says the legend.

Santa's habit of coming down the chimney originates with a Norse legend. According to the Norsemen, at the time of the winter solstice, the goddess Hertha would appear at each fireplace, bringing happiness and good fortune. Sometimes the good fortune arrived in the form of a bewhiskered old man who came down the chimney to meet her.

A beautiful legend tells of the Christmas rose. This story is about a poor little girl, who stood weeping outside the stable on Christmas night because she had no gift for the Infant Jesus. One of the angels noticed the little girl and brushed the earth where her tears had fallen, with a wing.

Make being a supershipper your business

Many people have made shopping with coupons a profitable home business which they run right from their kitchen table.

Yes, shopping with coupons has gone beyond saving a few cents. Rising supermarket prices have made it a necessity, but have you ever wondered how profitable it can be. Shoppers who have "learned how" can get back most of their grocery money each month. If their grocery bill is $500 and they get back $450 in refunds...that's a profitable little home business...and the money is clear.

Early shoppers who mastered the art of coupon shopping had to teach themselves, but today there are plenty of people to show you the way. Plus there are reports, bulletins and guides for you to follow. If you already shop with coupons you will be surprised to see how much money you can save with just a little help. (If you start this Christmas, by next Christmas you could have yourself a profitable little business.)

Supershippers do more than clip coupons. They know how to get coupons mailed to their door. They also know how to get information on loads of manufacturers' refunds few people seem to know about.

Manufacturers issue coupons in the hope of establishing regular customers for their products and would like to see them used.

An astonishing fact is that, though 90 billion coupons and refunds are issued each year, only five percent of them are ever used, so there is plenty for you if you are interested and want to learn where to look.

A consumer service group has put together a special report that gives the inside tips on how to get more manufacturer coupons and refunds each week.

Christmas caution prevents fire tragedy

The holiday season is potentially a very dangerous one. Precautions against fire and adherence to general safety rules are of the utmost importance when Christmas preparations are being made, reminds the Mississippi State Medical Association.

Fire is the greatest single contributor to Christmas tragedy. The dangers of fire in the home are compounded during the holidays due to the presence of trees, trimmings, lights, candles, and paper decorations which would not normally be in the home.

The primary causes of home fires during Christmas are lighted candles, fireplaces, trees which become too dry, and faulty electrical connections. Common sense and adherence to a few basic safety rules can drastically reduce the number of home fires. The following guidelines should be used to assure a safe and merry Christmas:

—Make an emergency plan to use if fire breaks out.

—Have telephone numbers of fire and emergency squads handy.

—Keep matches, lighters, and candles out of the reach of children.

—Never burn candles near evergreens or in drafts from open windows, heating or air conditioning systems.

—Never burn candles in the middle of dried flower arrangements, cut pine, balsa or holly.

—Never burn evergreens in a fireplace, as dry greens burn like tinder and can flare out of control, sending sparks flying about the room.

Special precautions should also be taken with the Christmas tree, because chemical coatings or sprays cannot be relied upon to flame-proof it. A fresh tree will stay green longer and be less of a fire hazard than a dry one. A fresh tree is green. Its needles are hard to pull from its branches and do not break when bent between your fingers. Its trunk is sticky with resin, and a shower of needles does not fall to the ground when it is shaken.

The tree should be placed away from fireplaces, radiators, and other heat sources. It should also be out of the way of traffic and not block any doorways.

The tree, after two inches of its trunk is removed, should be mounted in a sturdy, water-holding stand with wide-spread legs and fastened to the walls or ceiling with thin guy wires which will be nearly invisible. The base should be kept full of water while the tree is indoors because heated rooms dry trees out rapidly, creating fire hazards.

New Ways With Holiday Favorites

When planning Thanksgiving and Christmas feasts for family and friends this year, prepare old-time holiday favorites with a delicious new twist! No table is complete without a beautifully roasted and fully-dressed turkey, sweet potatoes and luscious pies, but why not surprise your guests and make this traditional meal more exciting? Trying new variations of seasonal favorites will surely keep the tradition of your holiday dinner alive and well!

To give your turkey perfectly crisp skin and a delightful new flavor (and to fill your home with a wonderful aroma while the meal is cooking), prepare a golden Holiday Glaze made with honey, orange juice, light brown sugar and the almond-flavored liqueur, Amaretto di Saronno. This easy-to-prepare combination can be used not only to baste your turkey but also as a glaze on sweet potatoes. Remember, when cooking with spirits the alcohol burns off and leaves only the essence of fine flavor.

Stuffing can run a close second as the main attraction of your holiday feast, and can also be prepared with a little extra zip this year. Try a Fruit and Sausage Stuffing made with pork sausage, dried fruits and Amaretto di Saronno. The combination of browned sausage, seasonal dried fruits and the almond-flavored liqueur, together with the traditional ingredients of stuffing, will make this special dish the perfect accompaniment to your Holiday Glazed turkey!

Saronno Holiday Glaze and Fruit and Sausage Stuffing are just two of over 40 recipes specially created by Amaretto di Saronno for its new "A Celebration of Seasonal Occasions" recipe packet. To receive a copy, free-of-charge, send your name and address to: Amaretto di Saronno, Dept. TH, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, New York 10016.

Fruit and Sausage Stuffing

- 2 pounds bulk pork sausage, casing removed
- 1 cup butter
- 2 cups chopped onions
- 2 cups chopped celery
- 3 quarts (12 cups) bread cubes
- 4 cups mixed dried fruits, coarsely chopped
- 2 teaspoons marjoram leaves
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 teaspoon ground sage
- 1 cup water or turkey broth
- 1 cup Amaretto di Saronno

Traditional favorites — Amaretto di Saronno's almond taste gives a new flavor dimension to your holiday turkey glaze and stuffing.

Brown sausage in a large skillet, stirring with a fork. Remove meat to a large bowl, pouring off fat. Add butter, onion and celery to skillet and cook over medium heat, stirring, 5 minutes. Add bread cubes, turning to brown. Add mixture to sausage; add remaining ingredients and toss until well mixed. Adjust seasoning to taste. Cool before using to stuff turkey.

Makes enough stuffing for one 12-pound turkey.

Saronno Holiday Glaze

- 1/2 cup honey*

- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/3 cup Amaretto di Saronno
- 1 cup light brown sugar

Combine all ingredients in a small, heavy-bottom pan. Heat slowly until all sugar dissolves. Cool. Brush on half the mixture half way through cooking time; continue to baste until finished.

Use for turkey, chicken, duck, goose and sweet potatoes.

*Substitute 1/2 cup melted, unsalted butter if a less sweet flavor is desired.

Fun craft project for the kids to make this season

Children enjoy the activity of holiday preparations, such as wrapping gifts for family and friends; you can include them in these preparations by letting them make gift tags.

All that is needed are some plain index cards, short pieces of ribbon, yarn or colored string, a hole punch, and some odds and ends of wrapping paper.

Have the youngsters fold each card in half, then have them punch a hole at the top corner of the fold. Show them how to cut out motifs from odds and ends of wrapping paper, making sure that the designs are small enough to fit on the folded card. You can also use old greetings cards for this purpose.

Glue a motif to each card, and draw the bits of ribbon or string through the holes of each card for tying onto packages.

If the children prefer, they can also draw simple motifs such as trees, stars or Christmas ornaments on the cards with either crayon or felt tip pens.

These little tags also make charming decorations for a small tree.

In another variation on these index card gift tags, you can have the youngsters punch holes about a quarter of an inch apart, along the edges of each card. Have them weave brightly colored yarn in and out of the holes, with the yarn making a border around the edge of the card. Tie the ends together in a knot.

Taking care of holiday plants

Whether you buy holiday flowers and plants for yourself or receive them as gifts, you'll enjoy them more if you give them a little care.

The Consumer Information Service of the Florists' Transworld Delivery Association (FTD) offers these tips for taking care of flowers and plants, during the holidays and throughout the year:

- Display arrangements of cut flowers in cool areas, but away from drafts. Keep them far away from heat sources, like the top of the television. TV sets are hot even when they're turned off.

- Water cut-flower bouquets daily with tepid water. For watering plants, follow the instructions that come with them or consult your florist.

- Cut flowers often are combined with evergreens in centerpieces and other arrangements for the holidays. When the flowers wilt, you can still enjoy the greens alone or replace the flowers with a few fresh blooms.

- If you want to create your own holiday flower arrangements, make sure the container is sparkling clean. Then cut the stems of the flowers on an angle with a sharp knife. Remove any foliage that will be under water. Fill the container with tepid water and add a floral preservative, a powder that dissolves, before arranging the flowers. Preservatives are inexpensive and available at florists.†

Brewer, 524-HELP sponsoring joint holiday safety program

Holidays—especially the period from Thanksgiving to New Year—mean fun, parties, get-togethers, and more-than-usual drinking.

That's why the Committee on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse (CADA), of Greater New Orleans, and Anheuser-Busch's New Orleans branch office have joined forces in a holiday commemoration—'Know When To Say When.'

To Save the Holidays effort is a practical approach. It urges merrymakers to Know When to Say When and not to drink and drive.

The message is clear. For those who can, drinking can be fun if done responsibly and safely; for those who won't drink responsibly or safely, or can't, it can be disastrous.

And, it has a "helping hand" twist, offering assistance to individuals and families with a problem, through CADA's 524 H-E-L-P number.

"No one can afford not to support this effort, and, even more so, not to practice its suggestions. We hope the reminder will make the 1985 holiday season a happy, merry, safe and accident-free season. Happy Holidays," said Jack Seuzeneau of Bay St. Louis, CADA representative.

Christmas toy safety tips listed

(Presented as a public service by the Mississippi State Medical Association and this newspaper.)

Santa Claus is coming soon. Children everywhere are waiting with eager anticipation to see the toys old St. Nick will leave under the tree.

Chances are that your youngsters will open their gifts Christmas morning and have a great time getting acquainted with their toys. But in all too many households the toys themselves will dim the happy Christmas season by causing accidents and injuries.

The Mississippi State Medical Association offers some simple tips for selecting toys that will help insure a completely happy Christmas.

- Beware of small toys that can be swallowed, flammable toys, and toys with rough or sharp edges.

- All electric toys should be purchased with safety in mind. Look for the UL (Underwriters Laboratory) label on the cord and on the toy itself.

- Avoid toys made of lead or colored with lead-based paints. You're unlikely to encounter these today, as the dangers of lead poisoning are now well known. But it's wise to be sure.

- Baby's toys should be too large to put in the mouth, washable, lightweight and non-brittle.

- Eye injuries are a particular hazard from some Christmas toys. Sling shots, air rifles, archery sets and even the spring-action toy pistols that propel sticks capped with rubber cups have caused injuries.

- Some toys, such as roller skates or skateboards, will be less likely to cause your child injury if you insist that he or she wears protective clothing — helmets, knee pads and elbow pads.

Christmas Day
In The Morning

As I sat on a sunny bank,
A sunny bank, a sunny bank,
As I sat on a sunny bank
On Christmas Day in the morning.

I saw three ships come sailing by,
Come sailing by, come sailing by,
I saw three ships come sailing by,
On Christmas Day in the morning.
And who d'you think were on the ship,
Were on the ship, were on the ship,
And who d'you think were on the ship
But Joseph and his Fair Lady.
O he did whistle and she did sing,
And all the bells on earth did ring
For joy our Savior Christ was born
On Christmas Day in the morning.

Irish cream liqueur adds a warm glow to holidays

Irish cream liqueur, the savory, creamy cordial that has become so popular within the past five years, offers versatility for holiday entertaining.

The extra rich, pure dairy cream that serves as the basis of Emmets Ireland's Cream Liqueur, and the brand's attractive value pricing, make "The Cream of Erin" an excellent holiday choice when before- and after-dinner drinks round out a holiday evening.

Delicious served chilled, on the rocks or at room temperature, Emmets may be served in a cordial glass as an aperitif or dessert cordial. After the holiday meal, add the Irish cream liqueur to hot, fresh coffee and top with whipped cream for a drink that will liven up holiday spirits. And if any Emmets is left, refrigerate as you would any dairy product for use the next time guests drop by.

Named after the fiery Irish patriot, Robert Emmet, this popular Irish cream liqueur is available in a handsome burgundy box, ideal for holiday gift-giving.

And for the history buff, copy on the gift box outlines the history and legend of one of America's most popular Irish products. †

Wise men follow star

For centuries, the image of the star of Bethlehem has captured the imagination of believers and scientists alike at Christmas.

The Scriptures do not give many details about the star. Matthew's gospel tells us only that the Wise Men came from the Orient saying, "Where is He that is born King of the Jews, for we have seen His star in the East and are come to worship Him."

Still, there are many theories regarding the star, some based on faith alone, others based on astronomical explanations.

One scientific theory is that the star may have been a supernova, a star that suddenly explodes into brilliance. Because the supernova is quite rare, it would have been regarded as a sign of supernatural significance in the time of Jesus. And, since the supernova remains brilliant for many months, such an occurrence would allow the Magi sufficient time to travel in search of the Infant.

Still another scientific theory is that the star was not actually a star, but a grouping of bright planets.

Another theory is that the star was really a comet. According to researchers, one comet appeared for around 70 days in the spring of 5 B.C.

The Wise Men that Matthew describes were probably astronomers, say some researchers. Other historians claim that the Wise Men were actually kings: Melchior, King of Arabia; Gaspar, King of Tarsus; and Balthasar, King of Ethiopia.

Matthew does not specify that there were three Magi. Our tradition celebrates three Wise Men, but Oriental Christians had a tradition of twelve.

Whether the star of Bethlehem was actually a star, a comet or a conjunction of planets, and whether the visitors from the East were astrologers or kings, the symbolism of the Magi following that light to the Infant Jesus is summed up by an expression so popular at Christmas time: "Today, wise men still seek Him."

Christmas in early American times

Although Americans in Colonial times did not have Christmas trees or Santa as we know him today, they knew how to celebrate the season with merriment.

Christmas festivities in the Colonies began a week before Christmas and lasted until Twelfth Night, January 5.

In Virginia, a huge bonfire would be lit to usher in the season and candles placed in every window. Cannons would signal the start of the festivities, at which time the candles would be lit. These candles would be lit each night until the new year.

Throughout the season, the strains of fiddles and caroling would fill the air, as Virginians would attend balls, fox-hunts and enjoy social visits.

Wreaths of sprigs, scented spices and dried flowers were popular Colonial decorations during the holidays. Mantels were adorned with pine or soft cedar branches, pine cones and bayberries. Sprigs of holly were tucked between picture frames and walls, following the English custom.

Pomegranates were also popular decorations.

Feasting was integral to the holiday season in the Colonies. The wassail bowl symbolized cheer and hospitality to many early Americans, just as it had to their British forebears.

Dutch settlers enjoyed doughnuts, sweet cakes, short cakes, ginger cakes, fruit pies, preserves, fried shad, roasted chicken and bowls of milk and cream during the holidays.

In Virginia, roast turkey was the centerpiece of holiday meals, augmented with kumquats, roast beef, cranberry mold, spiced crab apples and glazed sweet potato slices.

Greetings among the widely scattered settlers would often be accomplished with the firing of muskets, a custom which has evolved into the setting off of firecrackers in some parts of the South today.

Christmas Day was a day of worship in Colonial America. In this land of freedom of religion, worship services ranged from morning services for Protestants to midnight mass for the Catholic settlers.

Although the Puritans objected to the revelry surrounding Christmas — in 1659, they enacted a law imposing a fine on anyone "found observing by abstinence from labor, feasting, or in any other way, such days as Christmas day" — the settlers in early America found much cause to celebrate, according to the country of their origin.

When the New Style Calendar was adopted by England, the Colonies subsequently followed suit, and took off 11 days from the year. Thus December 25 became January 6, which was celebrated as "Old Christmas" by many.

The very first Christmas in America was a time of hardship, but even then the Pilgrims managed to bring joy to the occasion. Harriet Beecher Stowe described the first Christmas in the colonies in one of her stories:

"The men had come back from their work on shore with branches of green pine and holly, and the women had stuck them about the ship, not without tearful thoughts of old homelands where their childhood fathers and mothers did the same. Bits and snatches of Christmas carols were floating all around the ship, like land-birds blown far out to sea."

Even in the midst of their difficulties, the earliest Colonists took time to celebrate Christmas as best they could, a tradition that Americans continue to this day.

Rum adds zest to holidays in punches and egg nog

A traditional holiday offering, punch adds a festive and decorative touch to any party table. Best of all, punch can be made well in advance and then chilled so that host and guest alike can enjoy the get-together.

Punches with a rum base, such as Mount Gay, the superpremium, medium-bodied rum, provide a delicious departure from more common holiday recipes. And, for the holidays, Mount Gay is available in an attractive, pale yellow gift box bearing a map of Barbados, home to this amber-colored delight.

Egg Nog Punch

Separate and beat yolks of 12 eggs, work in 4 tbs. sugar until dissolved. Slowly add 500 ml whiskey, 1 qt. fresh milk, 6 oz. Mount Gay and 1 qt. lightly whipped cream. Beat egg whites until stiff and add to mixture. Chill, serve in punch glasses and top with grated nutmeg.

Rum Apple Punch

Combine 2-750 ml bottles of Mount Gay, 1 qt. apple juice, juice of 1 lemon, ¼ cup sugar. Stir and chill. Pour over ice into punch bowl; add 1 qt. ginger ale. Garnish with fruit slices.

Spike Milk Punch

Mix 6 cups cold milk and 2 cups Mount Gay. Add 2 tbs. sugar and 1 tbs. vanilla; stir until sugar dissolves. Pour mixture over ice into punch bowl and serve sprinkled with nutmeg.

Holiday punches will sparkle and surprise when they include the Barbadian favorite of over 175 years.

Store manager expects Christmas to bring seven percent sales boost

Some retailers have been gearing up for the big Christmas shopping season since summer, according to Donnie Freeman, manager of the Waveland Otasco.

"At Otasco, we have what we call 'Christmas in July,'" Freeman said. "We select and order our holiday merchandise in the summer, so we have to anticipate what will be the big sellers long before they hit the market."

Items on the holiday merchandise list include everything from bicycles, stereo equipment, home appliances and sporting goods to toys and Christmas decorations.

"We traditionally begin selling a lot of the holiday merchandise as early as October," said Freeman, "especially the more expensive items that people prefer to put on layaway."

"The toys and decorations come out in full force at the beginning of November," he added.

And, according to Freeman, Otasco's holiday toy line-up will be larger than ever, featuring Cabbage Patch Twin Dolls, an animated, talking bear named Teddy Ruxpin, a dual-cassette recorder that allows children to sing along with their favorite stars, and a train set featuring the popular Transformers.

"Even though the retail market was down the first half of 1985, we are already seeing an increase in this half and expect that the holidays will boost the numbers even higher," he said.

"In fact, we feel confident in predicting a five to seven percent improvement in retail for the second half of this year compared with the second half of 1984," he noted.

He also added that his store has increased evening hours to accommodate holiday shoppers.

Otasco, Inc., the nation's fourth largest completely employee-owned firm, is a retailer of home, automotive and seasonal merchandise with 267 company-owned stores and 269 associate dealer stores in 14 states in the south and midwest.

This year share holiday memories with pictures

Remember last year's holiday pictures? Great shots of the kids under the tree, the whole family gathered around a table and Mom in her bathrobe in charge of the day's festivities.

A few simple tips from Instants, the Polaroid Photography Club magazine, can improve your picture taking this holiday season and result in an album you'll be proud to share throughout the year.

Move in close. The best pictures fill the frame against a simple background.

Pay attention to composition. Move around, consider whether the pointsettia next to Grandma adds seasonal color or hides her holiday hairdo.

Watch for good people shots. Pictures of your family and friends over the holidays will be among your favorites. Give your subjects something to do or shoot people doing something, unaware of the camera. Nothing beats a picture of a first hug or kiss when aunts and uncles arrive from out of town.

Microwave recipes make easy holiday eating

If the thought of Christmas approaching makes you feel a little nervous, you're not alone. Finding just the right gift continues to be one of the traditional concerns of the season.

With the hustle-bustle that comes with this merriest of seasons, why not consider a gift that will bring holiday help to the entire family? The convenience and timesaving features of a microwave oven enable you to be where you should be — with your friends and relatives, enjoying the spirit of the holidays.

Microwave ovens are transforming kitchens across the country and have become one of the most popular appliance items on gift lists. A microwave takes the panic out of entertaining and helps even the most unprepared host or hostess serve guests quickly and creatively. It's a gift that opens the door to creative holiday entertaining and a new world of convenience cooking throughout the year.

Tappan's unique browning element feature enables you to brown foods in the microwave, too, so food becomes better tasting and more visually appealing. Microwave ovens are designed to accommodate everything from a quick snack to a large roast. Defrosting foods becomes a snap, and ease of cleaning is another key feature — just wipe out the oven with a damp cloth.

THE SEA COAST ECHO CHRISTMAS ISSUE

The story of the nutcracker

One of the classic Christmas stories for youngsters was written in 1844 by E.T.A. Hoffman: "The Nutcracker and Mouse-King."

This fanciful tale centers on two children, Fritz and Marie. Like all the other children in their town, they were looking forward to receiving gifts, especially from their godfather, Doctor Drosselmayer. For he was no ordinary doctor. An accomplished inventor, the doctor could make life-like puppets that walked, danced, played instruments and drilled with guns.

On this particular Christmas, when the door to the parlor was opened, the children found many delightful gifts under the tree. For Fritz, there was a squadron of red-coated hussars mounted on white horses; Marie found a beautiful doll which she named Claire. But, most intriguing of all was a nutcracker in the shape of a man. When you placed a nut between his teeth and pressed on his cape, the nut would crack.

The children delighted in playing with the new toy, but soon it was broken.

Heartbroken, Marie insisted on taking care of the wounded nutcracker.

It got late, and everyone drifted off to bed, except for Marie, who lingered by the toy cupboard. She made a bed for the nutcracker, promising to have her godfather take care of his injuries. The clock struck midnight and suddenly, an army of mice advanced on Marie, with the Mouse-King leading them. Marie heard the commotion in the toy cupboard — it was the toys, rousing themselves to battle.

The nutcracker jumped from his bed, drew his sword and took command of the toy army. But, the battle went badly for the toys.

Marie sprang into action, taking off one of her shoes and throwing it at the Mouse-King and knocking him down. At this point, Marie fainted, and when she came to, her mother and the doctor were hovering over her.

When Marie told them what had happened, the doctor told her the story of the nutcracker, who was actually his bewitched nephew and who could only become young and handsome again when he had overcome the Mouse-King and had won the love of a charming young lady.

The years went by and Marie and the nutcracker shared many adventures, traveling to the Plain of Sugar Candy and the City of Jam. There they visited the Palace of Marzipan, in front of which a fountain of lemonade, orange juice and syrup gushed forth.

At last, Marie reached the age of sixteen. One day, she told the nutcracker of her love for him. Suddenly, a handsome young man appeared before her; it was Drosselmayer's nephew, freed from his spell. He asked for her hand in marriage, and together they reigned happily ever after over the Kingdom of Toys and Sugar Candy.

This delightful story has been adapted into a popular ballet and it continues to charm children and adults alike today.

Christmas in other lands

The joy of Christmas is boundless — it circles the globe and is celebrated in as many ways as there are nations.

In Panama, for instance, Christmas is a time for visiting. The visits begin on Christmas Eve, when friends come to your home. Together, you go on to yet another friend's home. So the visits continue, until Christmas night, when it's time for a party. Children open their gifts at midnight in this country, where decorated trees, both artificial and green, add to the holiday atmosphere. On Christmas Day, special fruitcakes and yellow cakes are served in honor of the holiday.

Italian children look forward each Christmas to the arrival of Babbo Natale or Father Christmas. Another Italian custom popular with youngsters is the exchanging of panettone, special cakes baked at Christmas time. Attending mass and gathering together with other family members for a big dinner are other Christmas traditions in Italy.

In Brazil, the holiday celebrations begin at midnight on Christmas Eve. Factories sound off their sirens at this time, and the cities are brightly decorated with lights, as stores stay open all night. After church services, families gather together for a feast of turkey or lamb, tropical fruits and Christmas cake. And, they toast each other with champagne. In this country, you'll find only artificial trees in the homes, because of the warm climate.

Bavarian children eagerly await a visit from Knecht Ruprecht on December 6. This Santa-like figure distributes candy to good children, while naughty youngsters get a spanking from "Grumbles," a devilish figure carrying sticks or a switch. The Christkindl or Christ Child brings presents on Christmas Day as well.

It's summertime in Peru during the Christmas season, so instead of going sledding, youngsters there go roller skating and biking on Christmas Day. The festivities begin with midnight mass on Christmas Eve, after which families go home for hot chocolate with panettone (an Italian cake bread) and open presents. There is food in abundance at this time, notably roast pig or turkey, either cooked on a spit or in the ground. Musical instruments are played while everyone sings folk songs and there is much dancing. Firecrackers are set off during these holiday parties in Peru.

Denmark celebrates Christmas as the greatest holiday of the year and preparations are elaborate indeed in this Scandinavian country. The season begins with Baking Day, when the dough is mixed for brunkeage, a paper-thin spice cookie served at Christmas. Mixing is done two or three weeks before the baking in order to allow the dough to ripen and the flavors to blend. Families gather for an early meal on Christmas Eve, and after dinner, the father and mother disappear into the parlor or living room, which has been kept locked. The doors are flung open to reveal the Christmas tree, decorated not only with ornaments but with small Danish flags as well. As the members of the family clasp hands and circle the tree, they sing Danish songs and carols.

In the Philippines, celebrating begins a week before Christmas, when carolers go from house to house each night until Christmas. Church bells ring out at midnight on Christmas Eve, calling the faithful to services.

Everyone has new clothes for this occasion, as they crowd into the church, where a manger scene will be prominently displayed. Afterwards, the children take part in a colorful procession, wearing wreaths and chains. Later, everyone feasts on roast pig and rice cakes of all kinds. Then, it's time to open the presents! Philippine children also receive gifts on Christmas Day when they visit with their godparents.

Although customs may vary from country to country, throughout the world, Christmas is celebrated as a time of joy and coming together.

Recipes for the calorie-conscious

Bake holiday treats with less sugar

This year, there's something new stirring in the kitchen. Thoughtful gift-givers are baking traditional holiday specialties with less sugar.

To keep the sweetness but cut calories, Sweet 'N Low baking experts recommend using sugar substitute for some of the sugar. For instance, traditional fruitcake recipes call for two or more cups of sugar. Our fruitcake recipe calls for only 1/4 cup sugar and one teaspoon Sweet 'N Low. Our other recipes reduce sugar as well, yet all taste delicious.

Those who receive your spicy home-baked fruitcakes and other good things will appreciate your interest in better nutrition. They'll know you're also concerned about staying in shape, keeping fit and trimming calories, especially during the holidays.

In these tested recipes, measured amounts of Sweet 'N Low are called for. Unlike one of the new sugar replacements, Sweet 'N Low withstands high temperatures during baking and keeps its sweetness. And, it comes in several convenient forms; the familiar little pink packets, a brown sugar substitute, a liquid and a convenient bulk package.

Once you've tried these recipes, you'll want to use sugar substitute in more of your cooking and baking for healthier eating year-round.

Fruitcake

Yield: 2 loaves
 2 1/2 cups candied fruits
 1 cup dark raisins
 1/2 cup golden raisins
 1/2 cup dried apricots, chopped
 1/4 cup dark rum
 1/2 cup chopped almonds
 1 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
 1 1/4 teaspoons ground cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
 1/8 teaspoon salt

NOV'83

CALORIE-TRIMMED CHRISTMAS FAVORITES: Delight your friends with gifts of new, lighter versions of your home-baked, traditional holiday treats: spicy fruitcake, winsome gingerbread boys and heavenly spiced nuts. Part of the sugar has been replaced by Sweet 'N Low, the familiar sugar substitute people have trusted for years. †

1/2 cup margarine, softened
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon Sweet 'N Low sugar substitute (3 packets)
 3 eggs
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Preparation: In large bowl, combine candied fruits, dark and golden raisins, apricots and rum; set aside 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in almonds. Preheat oven to 300°F. In medium bowl, combine flour, cinnamon, baking powder, allspice, ginger and salt; set aside. In large bowl, with electric mixer, beat margarine, sugar and Sweet 'N Low until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat in vanilla. Beat in flour mixture, a small amount at a time until well blended. Stir in fruit mixture. Divide batter evenly between two 7 1/2"x3 1/2"x2" loaf pans sprayed with non-stick vegetable cooking spray. Bake 1 hour 45 minutes, or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pans 10 minutes. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks.

For gift idea: Wrap individual fruitcake in colored cellophane. Tie with decorative ribbon. Or, place wrapped fruitcake in holiday aluminum loaf pan. Tie with decorative ribbon.

Spiced Nuts Recipe

Yield: 4 cups
 2 cups blanched whole almonds
 1 cup walnut halves
 1 cup raisins
 1 egg white
 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
 3/4 teaspoon Sweet 'N Low brown sugar substitute
 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Preparation: Preheat oven to 300°F. In medium bowl, combine almonds, walnuts and raisins. In small bowl, beat egg white until foamy; pour over nut mixture and toss to coat evenly. Combine cinnamon, Sweet 'N Low brown sugar substitute and nutmeg; sprinkle over nut mixture and toss to coat evenly. Place mixture in a single layer on a baking sheet sprayed with non-stick vegetable cooking spray. Bake 25 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cool on wax paper. Break into pieces. Store in tightly covered container.

For gift idea: Place in clear plastic container lined with colored tissue paper; tie with decorative bow. Or, pour into 1 quart jar or empty wine decanter. Cover and cut decorative material into a circle about two inches larger than size of cover of jar. Fit over cover and secure with decorative ribbon.

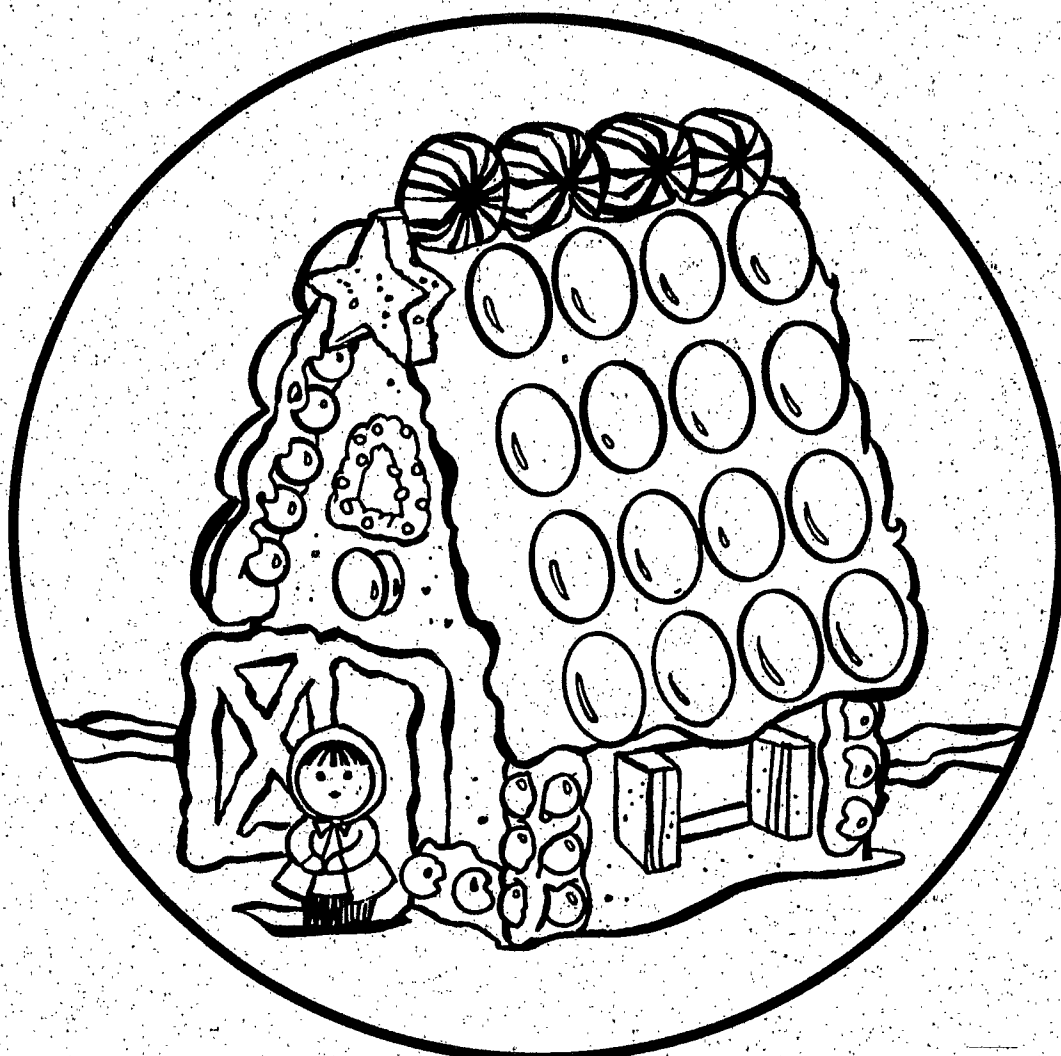

Gingerbread Men Recipe

Yield: 1 dozen
 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 1 teaspoon ground ginger
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
 1/4 cup margarine
 1/4 cup molasses
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 teaspoon Sweet 'N Low brown sugar substitute
 1/4 cup water
 Raisins for decoration, about 1/3 cup

Preparation: In small bowl, combine flour, ginger, baking powder, cloves, cinnamon, and nutmeg; set aside. In small saucepan, heat margarine, molasses, sugar and Sweet 'N Low brown sugar substitute over low heat until margarine melts. Pour into large bowl and cool 10 minutes. Alternately stir in flour mixture and water until well blended. Cover and chill 1 hour. Preheat oven to 350°F. On a lightly floured surface with a lightly floured rolling pin, roll dough to 1/8" thickness. Using a 6" long gingerbread man cookie cutter, cut out cookies. Carefully transfer to baking sheet sprayed with non-stick vegetable cooking spray. (Reroll scraps of dough and repeat procedure.) Decorate cookies with raisins, using them for eyes, nose and buttons. Bake 5-7 minutes. Cool on wire racks. Store in tightly covered container.

For gift idea: Line Christmas cookie tin with red or green tissue paper. Fill with cookies; fold over tissue paper. Cover tin and tie with ribbon. †

L. Frank Baum's "A Kidnapped Santa Claus"

Santa Claus lives in the Laughing Valley, where everything is happy. One would think that Santa would have no enemies on all the earth, but the Daemons who live in the mountain caves hated Santa very much, for the simple reason that he made children happy.

"Santa Claus distributes so many pretty Christmas gifts to all the children that they become happy and generous and keep away from my cave," said the Daemon of Selfishness.

"I'm having the same trouble," rejoined the Daemon of Envy. "The little ones seem quite content, and there are few, indeed, that I can cause to become envious."

"And all because of this person they call Santa Claus!" exclaimed the Daemon of Hatred. "He is simply ruining our business, and something must be done at once." So the Daemons laid their plans and awaited the arrival of Christmas Eve.

The moon shone big and white in the sky, as Santa cracked his whip and sped away out of the Valley. Suddenly a rope shot through the moonlight and a big noose settled over Santa and drew tight.

The wicked Daemons carried Santa away to their mountain. "Ha, ha!" laughed the Daemons. "What will the children do now?"

Now it so chanced that Santa had taken with him in his sleigh his four favorite assistants, all snugly tucked under the seat.

Little Wisk stuck out his head and found Santa gone. "What shall we do?" asked Wisk, anxiously. "We must go back at once and find our master," said Nuter. "No, no!" exclaimed Peter. "If we delay, there will not be time to get the toys to the children before morning."

Peter called to the reindeer and they sprang forward and dashed over hill and valley, until they came to houses where children lay sleeping.

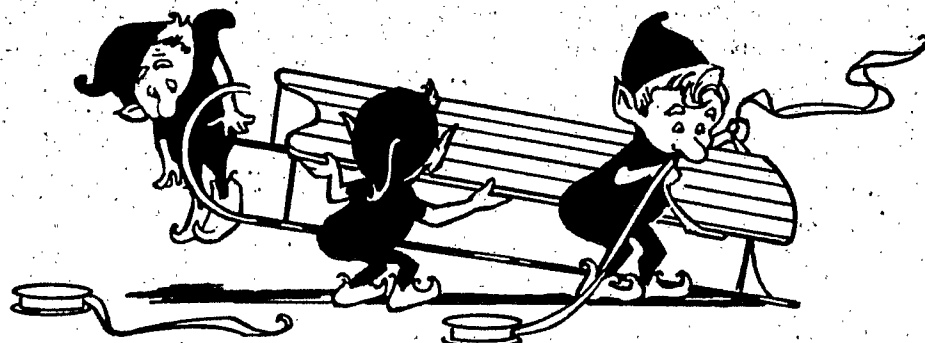

Although they worked swiftly, day had begun to break before the toys were all distributed, and the reindeer trotted in to the Laughing Valley.

It did not take long to find out how the Daemons had kidnapped Santa, and the four little people laid plans to rescue him.

Toward the Daemon's mountain came a vast army, led by Wisk, Peter, Nuter and Kilter.

But, coming to meet his loyal friends was Santa, who had been released by the Daemon of Repentance. They clustered around Santa and danced with glee!

The wicked Daemons were filled with chagrin when they found that their capture of Santa Claus had come to naught, and they never again attempted to interfere with his journeys on Christmas Eve.

a debt of gratitude

A collector of folk customs and holiday practices attributes our present-day Santa Claus to the work of three men:

Washington Irving, who wrote of the happy rural English Christmas festivities;

Dr. Clement Moore, whose poem "The Visit from St. Nicholas" gave millions of people the idea of a jolly saint; prototype of today's figure.

And Thomas Nast, the cartoonist whose plump Santa became the prototype of today's figure.

Come, bring with a noise,

My merry, merry boys

The Christmas log to the firing.

While my good dame, she bids ye all be free,

And drink to your heart's desiring.

— Robert Herrick

Cradled we know,

Christ came to Bethlehem,

Origins of the Christmas tree

O Christmas tree, O Christmas tree, O tree of green, unchanging!
The words of this beloved carol call to mind one of our favorite symbols of the holiday season — the Christmas tree.

Where did it come from? Why is it associated with the birth of Christ? For the answers, one possibly has to go back to mythological times. Norse mythology had its Yggdrasil ash and the early Greeks had Dodona's oak. In Greece, it was an old custom to wreath a pole with myrtle, olive and orange leaves. The Circassians would carry a young pear tree into the house, where it was covered with candles.

Later on, it became the custom to bring small potted cherry or hawthorn trees into the house, for blooming at Christmas or the New Year.

Before the 17th century, large decorated "paradise" trees were carried around in Germany, or used in paradise plays. In these plays, a fir tree hung with apples was used to represent the Garden of Eden.

Later on, pyramidal erections of wood, decorated with candles and fruit were often carried from house to house. Researchers conjecture that these pyramids were possible substitutes for trees.

The first decorated trees in the home began to appear in Alsace in 1605. At first only apples, cookies and treats were used to trim these new paradise trees, symbolizing the sweet fruit of redemption. Martin Luther is thought to have added candles to the trees for the first time.

By Victorian times, the tradition of the Christmas tree was firmly established in Germany. When Prince Albert became consort to Queen Victoria, he introduced the Christmas tree to England. By then, it was adorned with candles, gilded nuts and fruits and gingerbread. These goodies would remain on the tree until it was dismantled after Twelfth Night, at which time they were gleefully eaten by the children.

The Christmas tree was introduced to America by German immigrants during the 1800s. Homemade decorations such as popcorn and cranberries added an American touch to the tree, which quickly became popular in this country.

Today, electric lights have replaced the old-fashioned and unsafe candles, and there are no end of beautiful ornaments with which to trim the tree.

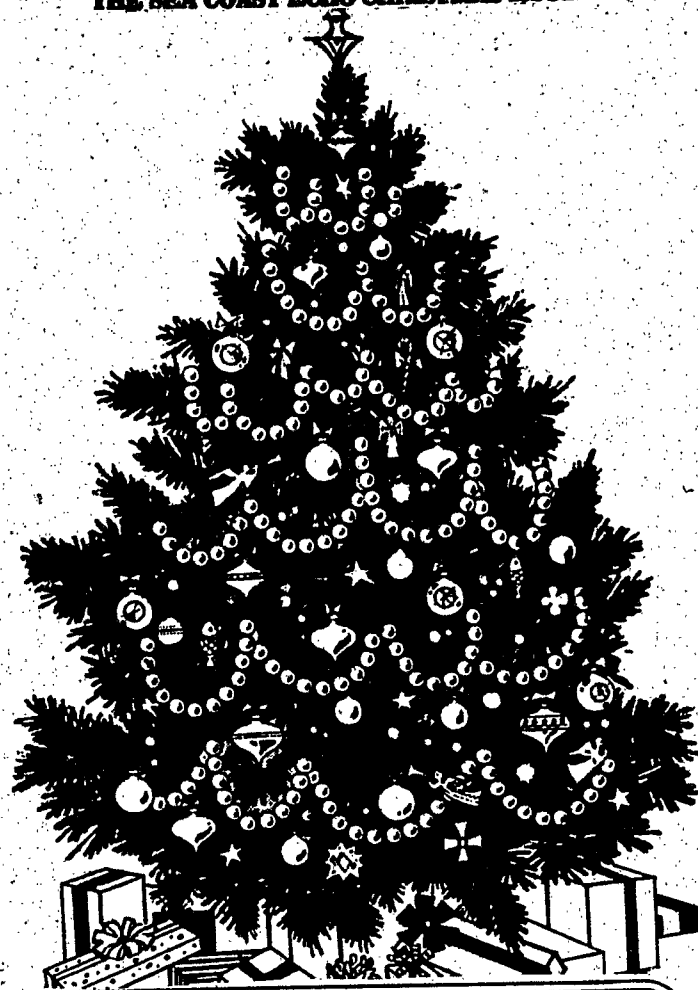

Christmas trees can be found in homes throughout the country during the holidays, and in public places as well. The lighting of the Christmas trees at Rockefeller Center in New York City and at the White House are among the spectacular displays enjoyed each Christmas.
